PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

- The hood is made of soft flexible laminate which seals around the user's neck. It is integrated with a large polycarbonate visor permitting clear, undistorted vision.
- The nose-cup is tightened and positioned on the face using two diagonal straps and quick release buckles located on the back of the hood.
- The front visor is equipped with a standard thread which is attachment to either a standard NBC filter or flexible hose that can be used with a blower to produce overpressure.
- The hood becomes a positive pressure system through the attachment of a blower (IMP 2005), supplying air up to 45 L/minute. This significantly improves protection and comfort.
- The hood can be worn over glasses and beards and still provide an effective protection level.
- The system consists of a head covering, blower (IMP 2005) and filter.
